Speech Pathology Services

Tailored solutions.
Greater independence.

What is Speech Pathology?

Speech pathologists assist people who have difficulties with speaking, listening, understanding language, reading, writing, social skills, stuttering and using voice.

Speech pathology can help people who have difficulty communicating due to a number of different conditions:

- Learning or intellectual disability
- Acquired brain injury
- Developmental delays
- Stroke
- Cerebral palsy
- Dementia
- Hearing loss
- Other conditions that can affect speech and language.

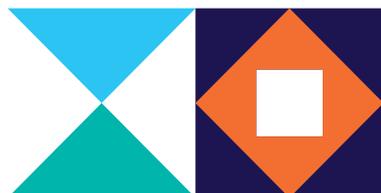

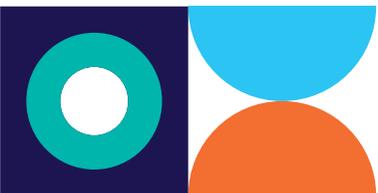

How can speech pathology assist me?

Our speech pathologists are experienced in working with the latest devices and communication technology to support communication, learning, recreation, independence and safety.

When you book in with one of our speech pathologists, you can have a one-off appointment or ongoing support, which costs approximately $193 per hour.

This includes access to different devices and technology to trial and we can cover:

- Advice about the most suitable options
- Assessment and prescription of devices
- Setting up a communication device (hardware and software)
- Programming and troubleshooting communication devices
- Ongoing support at home, school, work or in the community
- Hire equipment for a trial before you commit to a purchase (additional charges)
- Support with completing technology funding applications with the National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIS).
